WEEKLY MINISTRY MEDITATIONS

Pronounced "Soul"

I Don't Have Time

Attention! Attention! ATTENTION! May I have a moment of your time? This is a question that God addresses to us everyday, every hour, every minute and possibly every second of our lives. Why would God have to do this? Could it be that the quality time He deserves is little to none from a lot of us? He devotes all His time to us and what respect do we give Him?

I recall the earlier days when I was a disc jockey and how I owned over 2000 - 3000 record albums. I knew the history on the songs, the artist, even his or her life. Not just one category of music, but as many as 9 categories. I studied this information with great devotion! It was where most of my time went to. Lets just say it was my priority. Today, what are your priorities? Is it keeping you from having that intimate relationship with Christ? The time I spent studying music is now the time I use to learn to know everything about my Heavenly Father. It is satan clever tricks to keep us focused on anything but God. When you get to God just a little bit, satan is quite pleased with that! The key word is little.

It's not that people don't have time, it's the fact that their priorities are confused. Everything but God comes first, unless I have some type of problem or I get in trouble. I don't have time for bible study, I have other things to do and places to go. A prayer a day will keep the devil away. A person like this has the wrong mind set!

God made time to develop a perfect plan for our lives. He made time to go to the cross and die for us. He has made time to bless us with many gifts, such as unconditional love (agape). He made time to listen to us, especially when nobody else would! HE MADE AND MAKES TIME! Make him your priority now and forever! It's not impossible, satan could have you thinking that way. Get yourself and your family involved and tonight when you pray, tell God you will never allow those words or thoughts to come from your heart ever again. What words or thoughts? I don't have time.
